Men, Women and Wedlock Celt

A wonderful and pithy collection of sayings, advice, confession and home truths about the relationships between men and women. Originally published 1910 and illustrated with charming and funny contemporary illustrations.

Many a man has fallen in love with a peach only to discover that Fate has handed him a lemon.

Love is blind, they say. That perhaps is why he depends so largely on the sense of touch.

If a girl remains single till her ideal man comes along, the chances are that her maiden name will adorn a tombstone.

Nothing pleases a large woman more than to have a man call her a dear little girl.

Don't make love to a girl in a hammock ; you may both fall out.

Timeless advice! And all too true...
